The new approach to teaching & learning scales that's suitable for any instrument or the class room!

The 'text-based' approach has proved popular and effective with pupils, as well as parents, who often struggle to help their children practise scales at home if they have little or no musical knowledge themselves. This method can be used for whole class music teaching and has also been helpful to dyslexic pupils.

AlphaScales promotes the use of the musical alphabet (the first 7 letters of the normal alphabet) as a never-ending linear line. This provides structure and helps take out the mystery of 'what note comes next?' Sharps, flats & naturals are then added to the musical alphabet line. Having ascended the scale, pupils are encouraged to travel back down the alphabet line the same way they came up. For more details and to view an example page go to the Alpha Scales page of the web site.

Scalemate is a collection of fun practice tracks, to help musicians of all ages enjoy practising and learning scales, especially in preparation for an instrumental music exam (ABRSM, LCM & TCL). The mp3s come in a range of music styles, including Latin, Reggae, Funk & Jazz and also at two speeds – slow & fast.

The Scalemate products are grouped by instrument, grade and exam board and also come in discounted bundles (ideal for teachers). We also have a concert pitch category called 'Class' which is suitable for general practice or classroom use.

You can purchase the products either as a digital download (to use on your computer, MP3 player or mobile phone) or by ordering an audio CD. For more details visit the Scalemate web site.
